Empowering People with Knowledge & Tools

Reduce harm, increase your reach & save time

We want to live in a world where drug use brings benefits without causing harm or death. At Substancy, we work towards this world by empowering people who use drugs, health professionals and industry experts with innovative and accessible digital tools. We strive to enhance positive impact by integrating the power of technology with knowledge about substances.

We were born as a uni side project, fueled by a passion to reduce drug-related harm and deaths. Over the years, our initiative grew and evolved, thanks to the invaluable contributions of numerous volunteers. Along the way, we've celebrated successes, and learned from setbacks. Today, we're a social enterprise set up as a for-profit and driven by social impact.
